

Dawn Sarro

Dawn Sarro is one of Dog Star's super screeners. She began with Dog Star in 2016 as an experienced screener for other rescue organizations. "Because of my past experience with other rescues, it became clear to me that Dog Star was extremely well-organized with a volunteer coordinator checking in from time to time to make sure my experience was positive. There are ample volunteers always ready to step in and cover if need be. That reciprocal relationship is great because it helps prevent volunteer burnout!"

Each dog that Dawn screens brings a gift she looks forward to – the follow-up picture from the family. "I can't tell you what gratification it gives me to see a pup that was written off, complete the rescue journey, and make it into a loving family. Imagine all the people it took to make that happen! I get to see the best part – forever! It brings tears to my eyes every time."

Dawn has worked in marketing for 20+ years and is currently the Conference Marketing Manager at LIMRA in Windsor. She has three adult sons who all fondly remember their childhood growing up in a house full of animals. She shares her home with a bearded collie rescue and four crazy cats.
